NOMINATE TWENTY-TWO FOR COUNCIL

Hurley Made Manager of 1922 Basketball Team; Powers of Council Defined in Constitution.

Candidates for next year's Student Council were nominated by the Senior students of the present Council at the close of a meeting of that body Tuesday night in Lisner Hall. Other names may be added to the list of nominees through petitions, which must be signed by not less than 10 per cent of the student activities tax payers and presented by May 1.

The students named by the Senior committee and approved by the Director of Student Activities as contenders for the positions on the Council were: For the Medical School, R. V. Jones, B. F. Dean, Jr., Preston Haynes, H. Eugene Cole; for the College of Law, George Nielson, H. H. Shinnick, Frank Yates, Bernard Burdick, Robert N. Anderson, Thomas E. Lodge; for Columbian College, Carl Peterson, Alec Preece, Lillian Smith, Clyde A. Tolson, Waldo A. Clark, Robert W. Col. flesh; for the Teachers' College, Helen Faris, Eunice Crabtree; for the Engineering School, Richard Campbell, Robert Newby, Ralph Nagle, John Ladd.

The appointment of F. L. Hurley as manager of next year's basketball team was approved by the Student Council, and as his appointment has been approved by the Board of Managers, he will manage the 1921-22 varsity team.

Revise Constitution.

The new constitution for the Student Council was adopted at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, March 22, and will be referred to the signers of the voluntary activity tax for ratification at the annual election. Robert Anderson, chairman, Herbert H. Shinnick and Miss Rosemary Arnold formed the committee appointed by the Student Council to revise the constitution.

The main feature of the new constitution is the provision for a general organization, which shall consist of members of the faculty, students and alumni who have paid the voluntary student activity tax, this organization to elect the members to the Student Council. The members of the council shall elect their own officers, who, in turn, are officers of the general organization.

The purpose of the general organization shall be to organize and maintain various activities of the school, including all class organizations. All student activities shall be responsible to this general organization.

The purpose of the council is to organize, direct, supervise and encourage all student activities of the University. All activities shall be carried on under charters granted by the council, and organizations which are not so chartered will not be permitted to use the name of the University in any of their activities.

Appeals from the decision of the Student Council may be taken to the Director of Student Activities by any member of the council, or on petition of 25 members of the general organization.

Heretofore the council has been limited in its activities on account of the lack of a constitution which definitely outlined its functions and powers. The new constitution, however, clearly defines the relation of the council to the board of managers and to the Director of Student Activities, and it is believed that the council will now be able to supervise the activities of the University in a more efficient manner than at any time since its organization.

COLUMBIAN WOMEN ENTERTAIN FACULTY

Members of the faculty at the University were entertained at the College Women's Club by the Columbian Women and former students of the college Tuesday, April 5, 1921. Among those in the receiving line were Miss Elizabeth Peet, president of the Columbian Women; Dr. William Miller Collier, president of the University, and Mrs. Collier; and Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, wife of Dean Hodgkins.

A pleasing musical program was given by the Cecilia Quartet, and a one-act play presented by its author, Miss Esther Galbraith, which was received with enthusiasm by the members. Mrs. E. Margaret White was chairman of the program committee, and much credit is due her for a successful evening.

DEBATING SEASON A SERIES OF VICTORIES

George Washington Has No-Defeat Season; Debating Comes To Front at University.

It well behooves all loyal friends of George Washington University in general and the ardent fans of the forensic art in particular to point with pride to the successful debating season. Every debate a victory, making a record of three straight wins, establishes debating as one of G. W.'s premier activities and puts this University definitely on the debating map. Two victories were chalked up in a single evening, our teams winning on both sides of the same question.

The triangular debating arrangement with Swarthmore and West Virginia which obtained last year has been continued. On March 11 George Washington sent the negative team, composed of Leslie Jackson, Stanton Fitzgerald and Harry Perlin, to Swarthmore to debate the question, "Resolved, That the employees, as such, in each industrial corporation should be permitted to elect from their own ranks members of the board of directors of the corporation, all directors to have equal rights and powers." On the same evening George W. Moore, W. Irving Cleveland and D. Malcolm Hodge upheld the affirmative of the same question against West Virginia at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Net result: A 2-to-1 victory over Swarthmore and a 2-to-1 victory over West Virginia. On March 25 the negative team appeared against Penn State at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, and again the favorable decision of the judges was awarded to George Washington.

Due to the fact that a great part of George Washington's student body does not attend the regular day sessions and students are pressed for time because of regular outside employment, it has been found advantageous for the regular teams to debate the same question throughout the seasons. This arrangement also betters the possibilities for both a negative and an affirmative team. For the debate with Penn State the question was modified to "Resolved, That labor should share in the management of corporate industry," and a more clean-cut issue than had previously been the case resulted. In fact, after the first speaker for the negative had made his plea, the contestants were practically at loggerheads only on the definition of the phrase "share in the management."

Coming down to the question of Who's Who in intercollegiate debating at G. W., it would indeed be difficult to assign first place, so nearly equal are the relative merits of D. Malcolm Hodge and Harry Perlin. Debating enthusiasts will tell you that Perlin won the Swarthmore debate and the

W. U. C. WILL CORRECT SERVICE FLAG SOON

Will Permit Domestic Science Classes of Summer School to Use Women's University Club Rooms.

The monthly meeting of the Women's University Club was held at the club rooms, 2027 G Street Northwest, on Thursday evening, March 17. Miss Margaret Metzger, president of the club, called the meeting to order at 8.15. A social hour followed the business meeting and the new Victrola added to the enjoyment of the evening. Each member wore a "bit of green."

The president announced that the office of the secretary of the University was getting together a list of G. W. U. men who lost their lives in the world war, and that as soon as this list was furnished the service flag would be brought up to date by the addition of the proper number of gold stars. A motion was carried permitting the domestic science class of the summer school to use the club rooms. Authority was granted the club's housekeeper to purchase kitchen utensils not exceeding the sum of $10. The books of the club will be closed on May 1, and all members are urged to pay their dues before that date.

BENEFIT LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY

A luncheon for the benefit of the girls' basketball team will be held Wednesday, April 20, on the campus at the rear of Lisner Hall, 2023 G Street Northwest. The receipts from the luncheon will be expended to give the members of the girls' varsity sweaters as a reward for their service in the behalf of girls' athletics at the University.

MEDAL OFFERED BY DELTA TAU DELTA

President Collier Expresses Appreciation to Deltas on Behalf of G. W.; Revise Award Rules.

"In behalf of the University I wish to thank you for your generous offer to award annually a gold medal to that student of the University who has performed the most meritorious service in the furtherance and upbuilding of the student activities. I think the object is a most worthy one and that your medal will do much to promote a wholesome University life," said President William Miller Collier in a letter to Delta Tau Delta Fraternity in accepting its offer to award a gold medal to the student of the University for meritorious service in student activities.

The announcement of the award was first made in the December 24th issue of The Hatchet. At that time it was stated that the medal was to be awarded ed by a committee consisting of one member from the Board of Managers, one from the Student Council, and one from the fraternity; but recent developments have caused a change. Under the present conditions, the medal will be awarded by the Board of Managers, exclusive of student members, under the following rules:

1. The Gamma Eta Chapter of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity will award a gold medal in June of each year to that student of the University who, in the opinion of the Board of Managers (exclusive of the student members) has performed the most meritorious service in the furtherance and upbuilding of the University student activities during the preceding two years.

2. No student may be eligible for more than one award, and in choosing the recipient of the award the Board of Managers shall consider the records of the eligible students in regard to the permanent good such service shall have had upon the student activities.

The medal is a gold one, about the size of a 25-cent piece, with the seal of the University on the face and a border, containing the words, "Delta Tau Delta Activity Medal," and the year it is presented. The reverse side will bear an inscription, including the name of the student winning it, and the nature of the award.

The medal is now being made by the firm of R. Harris & Co., and will be awarded about the 1st of June.

TICKETS FOR CARNIVAL.

Tickets for the G. W. U. May Carnival were distributed at a meeting of the various carnival committees, held last Saturday noon, April 9, in the chapel of Lisner Hall. The tickets sell for $3 per couple. The May carnival will be held in the Arcade Auditorium, Tuesday night, May 3, and will take the place of the annual Senior and Freshman proms and the Student Council dance.

The next issue of The Hatchet will come out April 29th. The paper will be made up under the exclusive direction of Eugene Thomas, assistant editor.

ASS'N OF PROFESSORS NOW HAS G. W. BRANCH

Group of George Washington Professors Form Branch of American Association of College Professors.

Professors of the George Washington University have formed a branch of the American Association of University Professors. The members are Paul Bartsch, R. W. Bolwell, Mitchell Carroll, D. C. Croissant, H. G. Doyle, G. N. Henning, C. E. Hill, H. L. Hodgkins, W. C. Ruediger, C. S. Smith, W. A. Wilbur, and L. P. Wilson.

The American Association of University Professors has for its object the establishment of professional ethics and the advancement of the standards and ideals of the profession. Branches have been established in 65 institutions, including Yale, Princeton University of Pennsylvania, University of Virginia, Johns Hopkins, Brown, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Among its members are the newly elected president of Yale University, as well as the presidents of 14 other institutions who have been raised from professorships to the presidency of Universities.

The association bears the same relation to the teaching profession as the American Bar Association does to the practice of law and the American Medical Association to the practice of medicine, and it has no outside affiliations.

ANNOUNCES SCHOLASTIC STANDING OF G. W. FRATS

Delta Tau Delta Heads List for Term of 1919-20.

In view of the general interest shown recently in the scholastic standing of the various fraternities of George Washington University, John W. Townsend, secretary of the Law School, has gathered together considerable statistical data in the form of grades and tabulated the respective standings of the fraternities. The following shows the average percentage made in scholastic work by the various fraternities for the term 1919-20:

Delta Tau Delta, 79.2; Phi Delta Phi (men's legal), 78.3; Phi Alpha Delta (men's legal), 75.9; Sigma Nu, 74.2; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 70.8; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 69.717; Phi Sigma Kappa, 69.711; Sigma Chi, 69.6; Kappa Sigma, 69.4; Theta Delta Chi, 68.7; Kappa Alpha, 64.9.

DR. BRIGHAM NOW ON STAFF OF "LA FRANCE"

One Time Instructor of History of Art at G. W. Now Writes for New Magazine.

Dr. Gertrude Richardson Brigham, instructor in English composition and the history of art at the University, is now in New York attached to the editorial staff of the new French-American magazine, "La France," issued by the La France Publishing Corporation, of which Mr. John Chapman Hilder is the managing editor.

The "La France" magazine is a very interesting publication and is dedicated to the interests of the French and American people. It deals with all international questions between these two countries and has articles of interest to students of French on the subjects of history, art, literature, economics and current affairs. At the present time a special feature of the magazine is a French translation contest appearing each month, which has become very popular among the magazine's readers. Dean Henning has recently been one of the judges. Copies of the magazine can be had at the University library.

Dr. Brigham has been very much missed by the students at the college this winter, but all will be pleased to know that she will return next summer and resume her classes as before.

More than 60 persons enjoyed the Columbian College Senior Class party at the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity house, 1603 Massachusetts Avenue, held last Saturday evening, April 9. Brooks Johns' orchestra made the evening memorable by their exceptional music and by the performance of their leader at the intermission.

President Shea declared the party a financial success and expressed the hope that class parties might soon become frequent events in the social program of the University.

REVIVES HISTORIC OLD G. W. SOCIETY

Recent Literary Society Becomes Enosinian Society, Which Dates Back to Year 1822.

Of great interest to the faculty and students of the University is the announcement of the revival of the Enosinian Literary Society, which was terminated at the beginning of the war with Germany. This society dates back to the year 1822, and is the oldest literary society in the University. It has upon its roll of honor the names of Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Robert Y. Hayne, Lafayette, John Quincy Adams, Washington Irving and in recent years, Dean Hodgkins. According to the records, Dean Hodgkins has held every office in the society, which probably accounts for its remarkable tenacity. At one time the society rooms were decorated with the pictures of the prominent men who honored the society with their membership.

The Enosinian Society was founded by a small group of erudite students who wrote into their constitution, "We are convinced that a literary society is calculated to facilitate the mind and the requirement of useful knowledge and we agree to form ourselves into a society of this character." Last year the George Washington Literary Society was founded by Prof. Woodman, and in that same year it voted itself into the Enosinian Society. The board consists of a president, Virgil Wiley; vice president, Rosemary Arnold; secretary, Eleanor Judd; treasurer, Henrietta Behrend; and a librarian, Mrs. George Barnes.

At one time the membership was limited to 20, but under the present regulations all students interested in debates or literature are eligible. The most recent tradition of the society was a debate with the Columbian Debating Society in 1916. The plans for the future consist of meetings at the homes of students and in Lisner Hall twice a month. Questions pertaining to current literature, magazines and political issues will be presented for discussion.

The society as conducted in previous years was unique in many respects. A system of fines was a regular feature of the meetings, and an inspection of the minutes reveal the following: "Not handing in subject for debate, 25 cents. Tardiness and no dissertation, 30 cents. Disorder and no news, 45 cents. No subjects, 25 cents." Also "Chewing gum, absence, leaving hall too long, cigarette in mouth, and eating," fines ranging from 5 cents to 25 cents were imposed. It is safe to state, however, that the prospective members of the society need have no qualms of anxiety over this drastic ruling.

The society was cooperative. A ruling that all members should assume the liabilities of the association equally was carried to completion. Students were eligible for regular membership if interested in literary pursuits. They were voted upon by ballot and accepted or rejected by three-fourths of the membership. Any friend recommended as the patron and friend of literature was eligible for honorary membership, also entitled to full privileges the same as regular members.

Among the subjects for debate were the following, some rejected and others accepted, "Has eloquence greater power over the passions than music?" "Would the immediate and unconditional manumission of slaves in the United States ameliorate their condition?" "Is reading calculated to improve the mind more than traveling?" "Ought an old bachelor to be extra taxed?" "Should females have an equal share with males in the distribution of paternal estates?" "Is it the duty of the American people to erect a monument over the grave of Washington?" All of this goes to show just what progress this country has made in the last hundred years, as the majority of these questions have been settled.

The society is the owner of about 100 rare and interesting books. In the future as others are added the organization will own a library that will compare favorably with other universities.

The faculty and the students of George Washington are looking forward to a bigger, better society replete with memories of big men and good deeds well done, and it is desired that all those interested in literature will help to make the society the most interesting one of its kind.

COLUMBIAN DEBATING SOCIETY POSTPONES BANQUET DATE

The banquet which was to have been held April 9 was postponed, due to conflicting with other activities of the University.

Here's Your Chance

Three events which have, in the past, been among the most important social functions at the University will be fused together to make the May Masquerade Carnival the most brilliant affair in the history of the University. The Student Council dance, the freshman prom and the senior prom have all been abandoned this year in order that all energies of the University may be concentrated and coordinated in a single interest, that of making the May Masquerade Carnival a success. Much depends upon the success of this carnival. There is a big deficit in the treasury of the student activity fund due to the failure of a large number of students to meet their obligation by paying the tax. Spring athletics have been practically abandoned for lack of funds with which to carry them on. It is believed that the May Carnival, if successfully carried through, will to a very large extent relieve the present financial situation of the activities treasury and allow the activities to again progress with the unprecedented strides that characterized the beginning of the year. At the present time the athletic activity at the University is almost at a complete standstill. The many bright prospects for the introduction of a wider field of warm-weather athletic sports have vanished, at least temporarily. And if something is not done to alleviate the present situation, there will be a general cessation of student activities. This will mean that all the rapid strides of the early part of the year will have brought the activities of the University to a point where they started. The May carnival has been offered as a practicable solution of the situation. Then it is time that every student at the University to pitch in and make the carnival the kind of a success that it must be. Spread the news abroad. Tell the town about it. Make your dates early and plan to bring as many friends with you as you can by dint of argument persuade to come. Don't forget the date—May 3d. Here is a chance for everybody to help the old U.

Price and Quality

When it was learned that price for space in the 1921 Cherry Tree was considerably higher than in any previous year, there was an almost universal howl on the part of the various organizations desiring sections in the annual. Later when the cost of publishing the Cherry Tree was announced there was another howl or rather a moan. And since then we have heard numerous rumors that the unusually high cost of the book is in a large measure responsible for the shortage of funds in the activity treasury. It is well to remember in this connection that one of the principle inducements offered to students to subscribe to the tax was the Cherry Tree. The students were promised an annual of which to be justly proud when they signed the tax. It would seem, then, that in reality the cost of the Cherry Tree should not in any way conflict with the other activities which were coordinated within the general head of student activities. And it is also well to remember that the Cherry Tree is one of the most efficient advertising agents the University has and is one of the few records of college life that a student may have in after years. Since George Washington is to have an annual, it should have the best, and that is what the present Cherry Tree staff is trying to give the University—the very best yearbook that can be produced.

DEBATING SEASON IS A SERIES OF VICTORIES

Penn State debate, and Hodge holds like credit for the West Virginia contest, but it wasn't Hodge's fault that there were only three debates or that he and Perlman were not on the same team. Harry Perlman is the leader and the strategist in debate. The way he summed up the arguments in the Penn State fray and stole the affirmatives' thunder by admitting their contentions demonstrated clearly that he can play the other man's game and his own—and win. Neither is he unmindful of the judges. "Honorable judges, get this!" will not soon be forgotten in G. W. debating annals. Hodge performed a like service in the West Virginia debate, and if the effect was not of such strategic brilliance, surely his appeal to the sympathies of his hearers will not be underestimated. It was an eloquent plea for the working man as an individual, and its favorable effect on the judges is not to be doubted. Hodge talked fast that night—he knew the subject so thoroughly that he was a little afraid time would not permit him to do his share.

W. Irving Cleveland's forceful logic carried with it something more of compulsion that persuasion, and his commanding presence is a factor of great importance in debate. As president of Columbian Debating Society his knowledge of parliamentary procedure and executive capacity has made him all that a presiding officer should be.

Someone has said that Leslie Jackson roars, but he judged only from his voice and perhaps his shoulders and eyes, not his manner. Deliberate impressiveness and perfect coordination of word and gesture constitute Jackson's forte. Combined with a powerful voice and challenging eye, they go to make up a type of argumentative ability that is hard to equal. Stanton Fitzgerald and George M. Moore have ably supported their colleagues in each contest and have often approached a finished style of reasoning and delivery. There is a certain lack of modulation of voice on Fitzgerald's part, and some disposition to antagonize his audience, and at times Moore has been deliberate to a fault.

Much more than mere mention of gratitude is due C. Altha Miller and Gilbert L. Hall for their tireless efforts in coaching George Washington debaters. These men have given their time and energy without stint to the end that this University shall be an unquestioned factor in debating circles, and this at a time when they are beginning to shape their legal careers has meant a real sacrifice. The judges and presiding officers are also men who have lent valuable time from busy lives to further G. W.'s interests in this activity, and their meritorious service is deserving of our deep appreciation. The generosity of the Y. M. C. A. has made it possible to hold the debates at a convenient point and in an auditorium well suited to the purpose. Last, but by no means least, the supporters of debating have filled the place to more than capacity on each occasion.

very entertaining and highly enjoyable to about a hundred couples. The Juniors achieved an unheard-of feat by furnishing printed programs, which were cleverly gotten up by a committee consisting of Gerald Duffy (chairman), Howard Espey, Marion Holliday, H. C. Kilpatrick, C. C. Spears and George Nielson. The program read as follows:

Words of Wisdom by the Dean.

1. The Quartet Without the Quart—
"Hunting the Lost Chord"—C. C.
Spears, Jack Daily, Charles Tucker
and Irving Cleveland.

2. A Question (for the jury)—Lois.

3. Drafting a Few Negotiable Notes
—By Heck.

4. Some Features About the School
—Brooks.

5. Handling the Ivories—"Come Sev-

6. Little Movements, Little Costume and a Little Song—Miss Carol Taylor.

7. Extra! Special Added Attraction:
Prof. Tearemoreff, of the Imperial Russian Ballet, has kindly consented to render his famous dance, "A Spring Zephyr." Costume—Hart Schaffner &

Orchestra.

8. Refreshments—Take a lot: Take ONE.

9. Dancing—Make it light on yourself.

Stop—Have you anything left?

Interpreting the program into plain English, it consisted of several song well rendered by the quartet, an interpretive dance by Lois McDaris, an Italian song by Prof. Hector G. Spaulding, some very clever cartooning done by Brooks Hayes, the class president;
piano selections played by Willard Bracklow, song and dance by Carol Taylor, 9-year-old jazz artist, and a rendition of the revolutionized shimmy by Jack Daily. Refreshments were next in order, after which the blackface jazz band started to play, and no one had time to do anything but dance until the last note of "Home, Sweet Home" was heard.

BASEBALL AMONG THE G. W. U. GREEKS

The Monument baseball diamonds were the scene of many interesting, exciting and humorous ball games Sunday morning, April 10. On Diamond
No. 9 a battle was staged by S. P. E. and P. S. K., with the laurels going to the former. With "Home-run Babe" Walter catching, the Phi Sigs had planned to annihilate the opponents, but facing the slants of Don Johnson they were held powerless, and the final count was 2-0 in favor of S. P. E.
Ellis, of P. S. K., also pitched a good game. Both pitchers showed wonderful control, fanning about 17 each.

To go from the sublime to the ridiculous we go to Diamond No. 8, where Theta Delta Chi and Delta Tau Delta staged a comedy of errors and base hits for five cold innings. Runs were scored so fast that it is feared several were missed. However, the nearest count favors the Deltas, 15-8. Meeks and Vidmer hit for the circuit, and White walloped two triples. Casualties—Meeks' two baseball bats.

The Sigma Chi and Kappa Sigs battled for five innings, with the Kappa Sigs leading, 5-4. A fourth-inning batting rally by the Kappa Sigs netted them 4 runs and 1 in the fifth brought

LAW SCHOOL ASSOCIATION TO HOLD DINNER APRIL 16

The Columbian-George Washington Law School Association will hold its second annual dinner at the Arlington Hotel Saturday, April 16, at 6.50. The eighth annual meeting will be held at 6.30, immediately before the dinner, and at that time the election of officers will take place.

The Hon. Huston Thompson, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, will be the principal speaker at the banquet. Director Bryan Morse will make a short talk on athletic plans for the coming year. Dean Ferson and other members of the Law School faculty will be present. All alumni are invited to attend.

CAPTAIN OF GIRLS' BASKETBALL VARSITY ENTERTAINS TEAM

The girls' varsity basketball team was entertained at the home of the captain, Miss Martha Dunham, 1628
Columbia Road, on Saturday evening,
April 9. Misses Omar Short and Janet Gassman also assisted as hostesses.
The following members of the team were present: Misses Ruth Reeves, manager; Martha McGrew, assistant coach; Frances DeGrange, Grace Pickering; Esther Eckert, Daisy Robeson, Lucy Proctor, and Ada Duffies.

Games were played and prizes awarded. The color scheme of pink and white with finishing touches of green prevailed in the two-course supper, which consisted of salad and sandwiches followed by ices and mints. A feature of the supper was a large cake with the decoration "Varsity, 1920-21."

SIGMA CHI.

The chapter held its annual picnic at Great Falls on Sunday, March 27. Despite the fact that Moyle fell into the river while gambling around on the green, a very enjoyable time was had by the 26 couples present.

The grand praetor of the tenth province was in the city this past week end and attended the chapter meeting on Sunday.

Everything is running smoothly at the house now that Doherty, the house manager, is back from the hospital.

Epsilon is moving into its new house on May 15 and a big house warming party is being planned.

KAPPA SIGMA.

Miles Romney and J. Norton Rolph will act as delegates from the local chapter at the District conclave of the fraternity when it convenes at Richmond, Va., April 15 and 16. A number of the other brothers are also planning on making the trip.

Edwin Brown has been in New York the past two weeks doing special work for the Government.

A "weiner roast" will be held soon, although no definite date has been decided upon at this writing.

THETA DELTA CHI.

Roy S. MacElwee, Rho Deuteron, formerly of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has recently been appointed administrative head of the Georgetown School of Foreign Service.

Walter Wright is in New York for a brief period.

Through the efforts of Bill Upton, Theta Delta Chi had a section reserved at the opening baseball game, and a number of the brothers attended and gave the home team their lusty support.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON.

Walter (Mike) Bauman has returned from his honeymoon.

Mothers, sisters and sweethearts were guests of the chapter Sunday, April 3.

Commander Sellers, of Georgia Psi, is living at the house.

Washington and Cross, of Cornell, spent week end with us. Roselund was called home Monday night, due to death of his mother.

PHI ALPHA DELTA.

The regular meeting of the John Jay Chapter Monday, April 4, was enlivened by a debate on the subject of "Foreseeability v. Direct Causation as a means of legal liability."

William Zimmerman and Joe C. Barrett ably defended the direct causation rule against Ashby Bladen and Brooks Hays, who spoke for the foreseeability doctrine.

Ben Jenkins presented the chapter with a handsome gavel of historic value, for which he was extended a vote of thanks by the members. The gavel is of gyacon wood, made from one of the ties of the first Panama railroad laid in 1856.

Robert E. Morgan was elected to represent the chapter in the interfraternity council.

McNemer, of John Marshall Chapter, University of Chicago, now with the Federal Trade Commission, gave an interesting talk on "Study the man in the jury box."

There were also present Snyder, of John Marshall and Van Meter and Davis, last year of John Jay.

KAPPA ALPHA.

The entire active membership of Alpha Nu Chapter, together with the members of the K. A. Sister Club, attended the annual chapter memorial service at Grace Church, Georgetown. Rev. George W. Atkinson, Alpha Nu '96, conducted the service and delivered the sermon on "Commonplace Christianity." Before the services a buffet supper was served by the chapter for the members, the K. A. Sister Club and their guests at the K. A. chapter house.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA.

Dr. Othmar Solnitzky, Ph. D., assistant instructor in embryology, was initiated on March 12. After the initiation Dr. Brooks presided and installed the newly elected officers for 1921. Eugene Cole, '22, is president and Dr. Noble P. Barnes was re-elected primarius.

A banquet has been planned for May 28, and many of the alumni, as well as active members, are expected to be present, this being the final affair of the school year.

KAPPA BETA PI.

Kappa Beta Pi recently gave a supper to its patrons and patronesses in honor of Miss Maye Stelley at the Garden Tea House. The guests were Dean Person, Justice and Mrs. Stafford, Prof. and Mrs. Clephane, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Geiger, Mrs. Anna M. Taggart, and Mrs. F. M. Bruce. Short speeches were made by Dean Person, Mr. Geiger, Prof. Clephane and Justice Stafford. Senator Sterling, who was to have been among the speakers, was unable to be present on account of his wife's illness.

PI BETA PHI.

Miss Francis Foster was recently affiliated with the Columbia Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi. She was formerly a member of Ohio Alpha, University of Ohio, Athens, Ohio.

The annual tea dance for the benefit of the settlement school at Gatlinburg, Tenn., was given at 2400 Sixteenth Street on April 2.

PHI MU.

The Beta Alpha Chapter of Phi Mu will hold an open house in the form of a tea dance at 2400 Sixteenth Street next Saturday, April 16, from 4 to 7 p. m. Members of the faculty and the student body are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Kohn, formerly Dot Bingham, class of '21, who has been in Honolulu for the past two years, paid a visit to the chapter last Monday and attended the meeting in the evening.

"SISTER, PLEASE PASS THE POUCH!"

Papas and hubbies will have to ask datter and wife for mak-in's for the ol' cob pretty soon.

"Hot Damn," says N. Y. U. Dean, "shun the snipe and hook on to a briar."

"LAWD, WHAT NEXT?"

By Porthos.

It'll take three-score years and eleven to round out the 500 since Old Man Columbus gazed upon the savages and sea-weed of San Salvador, and that he glimpsed into the future of a New World. "Ha!" said Chris. "Ha! This new world will show 'em things. Jes wait!" Little did he reck that only five centuries divided him from the days of rouge and rice powder, short skirts and dimpled knees, roll tops and rubber necks. Small wonder that he thot hopefully while watching the brown-skin babies consume the curd of cocoanuts and hundred proof, but less wonder that he never imagined the 18th amendment and women smoking and women voting.

But tempus fled and women smoked, and smoking took their place with men. Now the time has come when the reformers are on the trail of the ladies who puff the evil snipe or take a whiff from sweetie's cigar. Even the Deans, who openly sanction smoking as such, have advised against the small boys' delight and the strong man's haven, and tell the co-eds to buy themselves a pipe. Two Deans of New York University have come out with hot dope against the cigarette, and say, together, "Buy you a pipe." So now the old home days are gone and mama and sister have the pipes. And the new war cry will be, when papa comes home and doffs his coat and shoes and seats himself in the cushioned rocker, "Sister, please pass me the pouch."

Women vote. Women smoke. Women wear roll tops. Women—but we are a mere man and haven't much idea what else. Our only thot is: "Columbus, just see what you missed!!!"
